The laudelide Congress, if it can, may cut down Southern representation, but anyhow the South hasn't got any white feather to be clipped.

A New Jersey woman called her husband a fool and struck him with a bologna sausage. That looks like trying to beat horse sense into the old man.

The South pursues the even tenor of her way, Industry and thrift are holding sway; No luckless landslide shall disturb her onward tread, She just lets it slide and forges right ahead.

The last election, and all elections for that matter, shows that the people recognize that there are only two parties. It is time for the decoy duck parties to get paid off and be discharged.

Dr. Swallow cheerfully declares that he is much gratified at his vote for President. Being in the minority procession ourself, no Dr. Swallow can wear the badge of defeat more proudly than we when we are conscious that we did the best we could.

The Indianapolis Sentinels says: "The man who would succeed must let the world know that he is on the highway to success." After you tell the world about it then go right ahead and keep your eyes skinned for the people who throw out a banana peel to head you off.

During the campaign Judge Parker openly accused the Standard Oil trust of supporting Roosevelt. It appears, however, that concern was one of the bad trusts. It is announced from Washington that President Roosevelt has ordered the Department of Commerce to thoroughly investigate the petroleum industry of the United States. The object is to ascertain whether the Standard Oil Company is an illegal combination in restraint of trade. The Bureau of Corporations will make the investigation. James R. Garfield, Commissioner of Corporations, and a personal friend of the President, is to have charge. The investigation is to be more thorough than any trust inquiry yet begun. The President, it is stated, has determined that the Standard Oil monopoly shall be broken, and anticipating a long, hard fight, he has issued instructions that it be begun immediately in order that it may be completed before his term of office expires. The prosecution would have been inaugurated last Summer had not the President feared his action would be criticised as having been due to political motives.

LOCAL DOTS.

— British steamer Miramar, 1,651 tons, arrived yesterday from Baltimore for cargo of cotton.

— Arrangements are being made by the Atlantic Coast Line to take an unusually large crowd of Wilmingtonians to Richmond for the football game Thursday.

— License was issued yesterday for the marriage of Miss Ida Butler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ammie Butler, of Cronly, N. C., and Mr. Frank P. Riley, of the same town.

— The steamer Compton arrived Sunday with a cargo of lumber from Little River, S. C., for Kidder's mill. The Compton left the city Saturday and made a remarkably quick trip.

— Cotton receipts yesterday were 5,909 bales against only 1,948 bales same day last year. The bulk of yesterday's receipts came from over the W. & W. and W., C. & A. railroads.

— Florence Times: "The Atlantic Coast Line has agreed to run an extra train from Florence to Sumter on Thanksgiving day on account of the Fall Festival in the Game Cock city."

— Florence Times: "Fire destroyed the store and entire stock of R. H. Lee at Hartsville on Wednesday night, and for a time threatened the depot and oil mill. Mr. Lee will suffer a loss of about $1,500."

— Florence Times: "There was a fire at the transfer yards Saturday night which destroyed some cars containing a lot of oil for greasing cars. Fire was left in the heater after everybody had gone and it caught in this way."

— The trees on Third street, in front of the east entrance to the new Odd Fellows' building, were removed yesterday. The new structure shows up excellently with the obstructions out of the way and is one of the prettiest in town.

— Mr. M. F. Croom, who moved to Florida last year expecting to make that State his home in the future, has returned to the city and on Jan. 1st, 1905, will be associated with Mr. J. L. Jordan under the firm name of Croom & Jordan, successor to J. L. Jordan & Co.

— The Southern Express Co. is making its annual arrangements for handling the rush business of the holidays. The branch office of the company this year will be located at VanAmringe's auction rooms on Second street. Two or three additional delivery wagons will be pressed into service for the extra work.

Which Danced Best?

George Nixon and Andrew Spicer, young colored men, couldn't resist the temptation to dance when a banjo in the hands of a third party began to ring in Mr. C. R. Mason's store, on Middle Sound, last Thursday night. And thereby hangs a tale. Andrew and George were shuffling their feet faster and faster as the music proceeded. A throng of onlookers stood by in the grocery and made witty remarks about the relative proficiency of the two negroes in the art of buck and wing dancing. Finally the negroes themselves got to discussing the matter and George declared he was the best dancer. Andrew was just as emphatic in his proclamation that he himself was the best. One word brought on another, the lie was passed and the two negroes went together with the result that Andrew was twice severely stabbed in the head. Nixon was before Justice Fowler yesterday charged with an assault with a deadly weapon and bound over to the Superior Court under bond of $50, which was given with Mr. Geo. R. Smith as security.

Little Girl Burned to Death.

Mrs. E. W. Hewlette, of this city, yesterday received a telegram from her brother, Mr. Charles H. Potter, a bookbinder in the government printing office in Washington, stating that his little daughter, Fannie, three years old, had been burned by falling in a fire made by some carpenters in the rear of his home last Saturday afternoon, and that the child had died Sunday morning at 2 o'clock in one of the Washington hospitals. Friends of Mr. and Mrs. Potter, who formerly lived here, will regret exceedingly to learn of their bereavement.

EXCELSIOR FACTORY.

Important New Enterprise Being Established on Point Peter, Near Wilmington.

LEASE RECORDED YESTERDAY

Mr. W. V. B. VanDyck and Associate Secure Valuable Manufacturing Site at Confluence of Two Rivers—The Buildings Completed.

A new, rather novel and an important industrial enterprise for Wilmington, of which very little, if anything, has been seen in the public prints of late, is the extensive plant for the manufacture of excelsior and other wood products, being built by Mr. W. B. VanDyck and associates, on Point Peter, at the confluence of Northeast and Cape Fear rivers, nearly opposite the Carolina Central station. Very little has been said of the enterprise because very little could be learned, but within the past ten days or two weeks it has developed that the new factory will be one of the most important in the city, inasmuch as a large part of the raw material used, it is understood, will be that which has hitherto gone to waste. The business proposed to be done here is on an extensive scale and will add very materially to the port's shipping and commercial interests.

Mr. VanDyck is a Northern man and was first attracted to this section by his connection with the pine fibre plant at Cronly. He came to Wilmington several months ago and has been quietly at work upon his new enterprise since early in the Summer. A number of buildings have been erected on "The Point" and it is learned that the factory will be in full operation before the new year.

A lease and option was filed yesterday at the Court House by which B. F. Hall and wife, of this city, transferred to W. V. B. VanDyck and J. L. Creveling for a period of ten years from Jan. 1st, 1905, the property upon which the new plant is located, embracing six acres with all water privileges thereto, save and except the timber pen and water privilege extending eastwardly along "The Point." The stipulated rental is $900 per year, but before the first day of January, 1906, the lessees have the option of buying the property for $9,000. In the lease there is a stipulation that no intoxicating liquors be sold or manufactured on the premises.

The new factory will begin operations upon a most eligibly located site with every facility for shipping both by water and rail. It should and will receive the encouragement of the Wilmington business community.

WILMINGTON JUNIORS INVITED.

Interesting Exercises at Southport on Thanksgiving—Excursion.

The Junior Order of United American Mechanics in Southport are making elaborate arrangements for the laying of the corner stone of the handsome new school building in that town on next Thursday, Thanksgiving Day. Messrs. John E. Wood and C. R. Anderson, recording secretaries of Jeff. Davis and George Washington councils, respectively, of this city, have received for themselves and their lodges a cordial invitation from Mr. Henry Daniels, of Fort Johnson council, No. 27, to be present and participate in the ceremonies. It is likely that a large number of Wilmington Juniors will attend.

On account of the exercises at Southport, the steamer Wilmington will make a special trip, leaving the city at 9:30 A. M. and, returning, leave Southport at 2:30 P. M., reaching here at 5 P. M. The extra trip will give everybody an opportunity of attending the ceremonies and, if they so desire, they may go for a trip out to sea. The boat will touch at all points of interest along the river on the down trip and will return to Southport in the evening, leaving Wilmington at 5:30 P. M. The fare for the round trip is only 25c.

To Take a Georgia Bride.

This evening in St. James' Episcopal church, in Marietta, Ga., Miss Grayson Willingham, a charming young society woman of that city, and Mr. George Ludwig Peschau, of Wilmington, will be married at 7 o'clock. The groom-elect left Sunday for Marietta, accompanied by his mother, Mrs. Eduard Peschau; his sister, Miss Alma Peschau, and two brothers, Messrs. John B. and Henry B. Peschau. Messrs. J. O. Carr, H. M. Chase and W. C. Crow, friends of Mr. Peschau, left yesterday to attend the wedding.

Remains Sent to Pender.

The remains of the late Mrs. Martha L. Harts, who died in Wilmington Friday evening, were sent to Rocky Point Sunday morning and interred in the Riley Creek church burying grounds. Funeral services had previously been conducted Saturday afternoon at 4 o'clock, from the residence by Rev. Fred D. Hale, D. D., of the Baptist church. The pall-bearers to the station Sunday morning were, Capt. E. W. Horton, Messrs. T. J. Gore, M. G. Tiencken, R. G. Sykes, O. C. Hill and W. C. Montgomery.

Heat Turned On To-Night.

Messrs. Glavin Bros., the contractors, assure the Public Building Committee of the Board of Aldermen that heat will be turned on in the Academy of Music to-night. The new plant is now about completed and patrons of the Academy are promised that "cold storage" will not be on the programme in the future.

THE BIG CIRCUS ROBBERY.

Forepaugh & Sells Have Left Tarboro for Winter Quarters in Ohio—Story as Printed in New York.

Advices from Tarboro yesterday were to the effect that the robbery of the Forepaugh & Sells' circus there Saturday was still veiled in mystery. Up to this time the authorities seem to be without the faintest clue as to the whereabouts of the money or of the people who made away with it. The circus people have practically taken the case out of the hands of the Tarboro police and are depending upon their own resources to solve the mystery.

Three trains carrying the circus to Winter quarters at Columbus, Ohio, left Tarboro yesterday morning at 1 o'clock and an hour later a special passenger train took the employes to Richmond. Full settlement with the employes is understood to have been made Sunday night.

The New York World Sunday prints the following account of the robbery as received from private sources there:

On the last day of their career as a circus, the money wagon of Forepaugh and Sells Brothers' shows was of $30,000 at Tarboro, N. C., early yesterday morning. The first intimation of the robbery came through the following telegram to the office of Barnum & Bailey, No. 25 West Thirty-fourth street, yesterday noon:

"Money wagon robbed of $30,000 last night; must have money at once to meet last pay-roll and avoid trouble."

Barnum & Bailey instructed the Chatham National Bank to furnish its correspondent in Tarboro all the money demanded by the treasurer of the circus. This was done, and the show left Tarboro last midnight for winter quarters, Columbus, O.

Forepaugh and Sells Brothers' show was controlled jointly by James A. Bailey, of the Barnum and Bailey show, Louis and the late Peter Sells and W. W. Cole. Under the terms of the contract it was agreed that in the event of the death of any one of those interested the show should be sold to the best advantage. Peter Sells died last September, and it was decided to dispose of the circus in its entirety. The price asked is $300,000.

Fredrick Thompson, of Thompson & Dundy, owners of Luna Park and projectors of the Hippodrome, now building at Forty-fourth streets and Sixth avenue, is a prospective bidder, but the deal has not been closed.

The circus has had a successful season, clearing something like $500,000. T. L. Evaris was the treasurer with the show, and William W. Spaeth his assistant.

James A. Bailey is ill at his home in Mount Vernon and could not be seen yesterday, while W. W. Cole, another of the partners, was sailing in Long Island Sound. L. E. Cook, Mr. Bailey's personal representative, said:

"This is the first instance on record of a circus being robbed. As the show closed at Tarboro to-day the treasurer will have to meet a pay-rol amounting to between $30,000 and $40,000. This represents the weekly pay-roll and the hold-back money coming to the various employees.

"We are awaiting details of the robbery."

SEVEN BEFORE THE MAYOR.

Sailor Who Fought Policeman Fined $10 and Costs—Other Notes.

Seven Saturday night "drunks" were before the Mayor yesterday, their offences being complicated in several instances with disorderly conduct and the like. Each was fined $5 and costs except John Dwyer, the sailor, who pulled off his coat and wanted to wipe up the postoffice pavement with Policeman T. G. Evans, who had arrested two of the sailor's shipmates for fighting. Dwyer was tried under the city ordinance and was fined $10 and costs. In default of the fine he will go to the roads for 30 days.

The young white man, Walter Farmer, who was knocked down and robbed by Haman Blocker, again failed to put in his appearance yesterday and a subpœna will likely be issued to Greene county, his home, before Superior Court meets next week. Blocker is a desperate negro and has served one term in the penitentiary for store-breaking.

The other cases in court yesterday were: Tim McCall, drunk and down, $5 and costs or 20 days; Boston Shaw, drunk and down, $5 and costs or 20 days; Robert Anderson, drunk and down, $5 and costs; Elias Batson, a sailor, drunk and down, $5 and costs; Jos. McDade, drunk, $5 and costs; Florence Hill, drunk and disorderly, $5 and costs.

Hale, the Impersonator.

Mr. W. Powell Hale, the impersonator, will be the offering at the Academy of Music to-night as the third number of the lyceum course of attractions. Mr. Hale comes to Wilmington with some excellent endorsements by the press and public and the entertainment will no doubt be first class in every particular. Seats are now on sale at Plummer's.

Maj. Hugh Waddell Recovering.

Yesterday's Washington Post says: "Maj. Hugh Waddell, who was seriously ill last week at his apartments at the Savoy, has recovered sufficiently to be taken to Wilmington, N. C., by his brother, Col. Alfred Waddell, who was called here by Maj. Waddell's illness. It is expected that Maj. Waddell will fully recover while in North Carolina."

To City Subscribers.

City subscribers are earnestly requested to report promptly at the STAR office every failure of the carriers to deliver their papers. Under a new system we have adopted we are confident a much more satisfactory city delivery will result provided subscribers will report, either in person or by postal card, every case of negligence on the part of carriers.

ITALIAN LABORERS.

Colony of Twenty-two Employed at the Menhaden Fisheries Here Returned North.

THE FISHING SEASON CLOSED.

Experiment With Imported Men Said to Have Been Very Satisfactory at Old Brunswick—Growers May Try Them in Cotton Fields.

Twenty-two Italian laborers who were imported here about a month ago to work at the factory of the Cape Fear Fisheries Company, at Old Brunswick, down the river, replacing the inefficient and unreliable supply of negro labor in the community, came up to the city yesterday afternoon on the steamer "Wilmington" and left last night on the Seaboard Air Line, returning to New York. Only one member of the party could speak English and the group, as they passed up and down the streets in the early evening, before the departure of their train, attracted considerable attention by their jabbering. One wag remarked that the confusion of tongues would indicate that they had knocked off work from the tower of Babel instead of from the fish factory. The return of the Italians North is because of the close of the fishing season in these waters.

It is learned that the experiment of working the Italian laborers here was highly satisfactory; that they are more reliable and more energetic in the discharge of their duties than the negroes, many of whom were inclined to work a day or two and "knock off" until necessity forced them to return, regardless of what were the demands upon their efforts at the factory. It is furthermore stated that it is entirely within the range of probability that an even larger colony will be brought next season and that some effort may be made to colonize many of them here, so that their services will be not only available during the fishing season but that they may supply other local industries all the year round. After a few years residence in a community, it is said they make good citizens and as unskilled laborers they are reliable and energetic.

A gentleman from the country, while in the city about ten days ago, took occasion to inquire into the result of the experiment with the Italians at the fish factory at Old Brunswick with a view of introducing the same class of laborers in the cotton fields during the Fall and Winter, growers having suffered considerably during the past season, owing to the inadequacy of the supply of negro labor and the utter unreliability of a large percentage of it.

An experiment with Italian and Portugese labor at several lumber mills near Newbern is also said to have resulted very satisfactorily recently.

Both the Cape Fear and Atlantic fisheries at Old Brunswick closed for the season last week and the boats used in making hauls on the outside have gone North. The present season is said to have been the most profitable since the establishment of the factories on the lower Cape Fear. It is said that the Atlantic fisheries will double its capacity before next season. The same report also says that the work of making this enlargement will commence about the first of the New Year and will be completed by March first, in time for the Spring catch. Nearly 500 people are now employed at the two factories under present capacity.

AT THE THEATRE THIS WEEK.

Four Pickerts in High Grade Repertoire and Vaudeville Specialties.

Messrs. Cowan Brothers, lessees and managers of the Academy of Music, count themselves and the theatre-going public very fortunate in having secured quite unexpectedly yesterday an engagement of four nights and Thanksgiving matinee this week with the Four Pickerts Company, a first class repertoire organization, which, owing to some misunderstanding with the local theatre management at Florence and Darlington, S. C., cancelled dates there and agreed to come to Wilmington before making what is called in theatrical parlance, a "long jump" to Fernandina, Fla.

The Four Pickerts begin their engagement to morrow night, presenting the thrilling drama "A Wife's Peril" with a line of specialties extra ordinary by the Pickerts and other members of the cast. In the play Little Blanche Pickert, ten years old, takes the leading role. The sale of seats is now on at Plummer's. Popular prices prevail—10, 20 and 30c.

The company carries its own band and a number of specialty people, who are top liners. For the Thanksgiving matinee the bill will be "Little Lord Fauntleroy," an extraordinary offering at popular prices, with little Miss Pickert in the title role. The matinee prices will be ten and twenty cents and seats for the engagement may be secured at Plummer's Thursday morning.

Hall, the impersonator, will be seen at the Academy to-night.

The Wilmington Symphony Orchestra has been reorganized under the management and leadership of the able violinist, Prof. C. C. Brannon, who will drill this organization to the eminent satisfaction of all who may give their work into its hands. Balls, parties, receptions, and wherever good music will be needed instructed to me will be guaranteed satisfactory or not a cent will be paid for the Orchestra's services. Address Prof. C. C. Brannon, 119 Chestnut street.

— Capt. J. J. Croswell, the popular Southern Express man, of Fayetteville, spent Sunday in Wilmington.

— Mr. Howard C. Curtis, of the Atlantic Fisheries Co., at Old Brunswick, came up yesterday and is a guest at The Orton.

— Yesterday afternoon's Raleigh Times: "Miss Bridgers, of Wilmington, returned home this morning, after a brief visit here."

— Capt. John W. Harper has gone for a visit to Lynchburg, Va., and a business trip North. Capt. O. D. Burriss is in charge of the steamer Wilmington during Capt. Harper's absence.

— Florence Times: "Capt. L. C. Jones and family left for Jonesville this morning, having been called there on account of the illness of Capt. Jones' mother, who accidentally got her arm broken."

— Goldsboro Argus: "It was a pleasure to his many friends here, who still regard him as loving Goldsboro and her people best, to greet in the city to-day Mr. J. H. Wm. Bonitz, and his youngest son, Fred, of Wilmington. Mr. Bonitz is looking well and is prospering in the hotel business in the capital of the Cape Fear, as he deserves, for he is the soul of hospitality."

TRAINING SCHOOL FOR BOYS.

Able Sermon Sunday Morning at St. James' Church by Rev. R. W. Hogue.

[Communicated.]

Those who were fortunate enough to be present in St. James' church Sunday morning listened to a simple text handled in a masterly way by the Rev. R. W. Hogue, the rector.

In showing the many possible and the several probable meanings of the command, "Gather up the fragments that remain, that nothing be lost", in the miracle of the loaves and fishes, he led gradually and logically up to the reformation of youthful criminals.

In choosing this subject he was responding to a request made, through the Pastors' Association, by ladies of the organization of the King's Daughters and Sons, representing the prospective North Carolina Training School for White Boys.

He cited many notable incidents showing that incipient troubles cause little or no comment; it is only when the blow falls in revolution, war, or anarchy and our own are affected that we fully realize their force.

The speaker made a strong point of individual responsibility not only of the clergy but of the laity, in matters of public import, requiring legislation, and the power of the personal influence of even the lowliest citizen.

He advocated the wisdom of giving our best thought to the restoration of our youthful criminals to honorable citizenship, at this time, as the Legislature is again to be petitioned in their behalf.

He maintained that it was work not only for a few Christians; but for all Christians and all citizens, from the standpoint that, if evil living is a menace to a community, so is wholesome living a protection to the family and home. Among the startling statistics mentioned by Mr. Hogue we learn that the lowest percentage given by Reform Schools of those who make useful men, is seventy-five (75). Some report ninety (90), and one, that of Tennessee, can count only eleven boys who have returned to criminal courses. Even seventy-five self-respecting men against seventy-five criminals! Is it not worth while? The plans adopted by the Junior Republics were especially commended.

It is to be hoped that the tocsin sounded by this able divine will ring out its influence to its farthest echo.

OPPORTUNITY FOR GIRLS.

Expenses at Leading Southern Institution Offered by Mrs. James Longstreet.

The expenses for one year at a leading Southern college will be paid for a bright, worthy girl of New Hanover county, N. C., who will secure for me one-hundred and fifteen subscribers to my book, "Lee and Longstreet At High Tide." The college expenses include board, books, tuition, laundry and incidentals.

For the double purpose of giving the people the truth of our civil war history, and of extending a helping hand to the struggling ambitious girls of the country, I am pleased to place a year at college within reach of a girl of this country who desires an education earnestly enough to exert herself a little. Should the girl availing herself of this opportunity prove particularly deserving, I pledge myself to the endeavor to open the way for her to complete the college course.

The girl who is interested in this offer should communicate with me at once, and her communication should be accompanied by the endorsement of her county School Commissioner, the editor of this paper and the teacher of the last school she attended.

I would be glad to communicate with every ambitious girl in this county who is struggling to educate herself.

MRS. JAMES LONGSTREET,

WILMINGTON, N. C.

TUESDAY MORNING, NOV. 22.

THE SOUTH'S COMBINATION OF RESOURCES.

The Charlotte News says:

"Our natural sources, particularly the cotton crop, combined with the progressiveness of the people, will make the period from 1900 to 1910 a record breaker for advancement along every line, and for this we should not give thanks to the Republican party but to ourselves. The South is making herself great despite the handicap of political favoritism to other sections."

The News is tonguing on the right trail. The South is going to take care of itself. The resources are here to overcome all obstacles in the way of the complete industrial triumph of the splendid Southland. If we do not realize what those resources are we will call on the Manufacturer's Record to roll back the curtain for a glimpse at the truth. Here is what the Record says:

New England buying coal in Virginia, West Virginia and Maryland; its iron in Alabama, Virginia and Pennsylvania, much of its timber in the far South, all of its cotton in the South except a few thousand bales in Egypt, and its foodstuffs in the West, has developed on industrial life and a general wealth which should be a tremendous inspiration to the South. With an area of only 62,000 square miles and a population of 5,000,000, against an area of 827,000 square miles and a population of 23,000,000 in the South, New England on its barren, rock-bound soil has created industrial interests producing nearly $2,000,000,000 a year, against $10,400,000 a year for the entire South. Massachusetts alone, with an area of only 8,000 square miles, or nearly one-fourth of the size of South Carolina, one of the smallest Southern States, has an industrial development which, until a few years ago equalled that of the entire South, and even today, with all the advance which the South has made in cotton mill interests, Massachusetts still has more cotton spindles than the fourteen Southern States. These facts are not presented as a criticism of the South, for conditions which have prevailed in the past were mainly responsible for the backwardness of the South's industrial life as compared with the New England and the Middle States, but they are given as a suggestion to the South of the illimitable possibilities of the future. With more iron than all Europe possesses with one-half of the standing timber of the United States, with coal estimated at forty times as much as Great Britain ever had before it mined a single ton; with 80 per cent, of the world's cotton production, with practically unlimited stores of oil, with a fertile soil capable of yielding almost every variety of agricultural products, and with a uniform rainfall, the South holds possibilities for manufacturing such as have been vouchsafed by nature to no other country on earth. Pennsylvania has developed its enormous wealth out of its coal and iron and oil interests; New England laid the foundation for much of its vast wealth in the manufacture of cotton goods, and Great Britain has created its wealth on coal and iron and turning our cotton into finished products. The Northwest grew rich on timber. The South combines—and the South alone of all countries in the world has this combination—all raw materials possessed in part only by all these sections. It has possibilities for industrial development such as no other section or no other country can duplicate. Even if New England had had great natural resources, what it, as one of the leaders in American industrial development, has been able to accomplish should be an inspiration to the South, but what New England has accomplished without having natural resources should be a still greater inspiration to the South."

The Record furnishes the facts and the evidence that give us confidence in the future of the South. With resources so combined as they are to be found in the South, the Record, in directing attention to them so strongly, is not merely optimistic but clearly logical. As we have before remarked, The Manufacturer's Record is a tower of strength in the development of the unrivalled resources which our contemporary so ably demonstrates are so uniquely the South's.

GIVE THE REPUBLICANS A SQUARE DEAL.

Speaking of election frauds and their results, the Charlotte Observer says:

"Apart from the immorality of the thing danger to the party lurks in the system, and danger to the South. A continuation of election frauds would be a powerful club in the hands of the Crumpackers, who are seeking to reduce Southern representation in the lower House of Congress and in the electorial college. They are wrong of themselves, hurtful in many ways, and there is no good to result from them."

Sure. We are far enough along now to have a free ballot and a fair count. For instance, there is no use, except for good grounds, of course, to throw out enough votes to overcome the apparent majority for the Republican candidate in the Eighth Congressional District. If the Eighth District is now Republican it is a sign that something is ailing it. Just take out a strong Republican county and substitute a strong Democratic county—and then count every vote the Republicans cast. What we want to do is to give them a fair showing against a Democratic certainty.

CURRENT COMMENT.

——It would be more satisfactory all around if they were digging up dirt and rocks as rapidly as they are digging up scandals down Panama way.—Washington Post.

—— The Republican newspapers in the Southwest are crowing over "Slemp's great victory." Yet a little while ago they were declaring that the new constitution was made to perpetuate Democratic rule in Virginia. — Richmond Times-Dispatch.

—— Residents of two Missouri counties are petitioning to be annexed to Arkansas since Missouri went Republican. It seems like unnecessary self-abasement, particularly as they are not supposed to speak the Arkansas language.—Washington Post.

—— New Orleans, which formerly held first place in cotton receipts, has lost its position and is surpassed by Galveston and Savannah, Galveston leading. That is according to receipts up to date. Although Charleston's receipts largely exceed those of last year, she is yet behind Norfolk and Wilmington. Charleston has long been behind, but she is coming on the home stretch, and may yet win.—Columbia Record.

—— Secretary Shaw has at last bowed to Mme. Deficit, whose existence he has coldly ignored for the last four months. A call was made upon the national banks yesterday for 25 per cent. of the Government's deposits, 10 per cent. to be paid on or before Jan. 15 and the remainder on or before March 15. The Government's deposits in the national banks amount to $104,000,000, and 25 per cent. of this is $26,000,000. The deficit for the fiscal year to date is $26,020,210. Mr. Shaw's call will balance the books, providing the receipts between now and March 15 are not exceeded by the expenditures. If the average excess continues for the next four months the Administration must either call in more of the deposits or provide means for increasing the revenues. In any case Mr. Roosevelt will begin his second administration under none of the embarrassments that are imposed by a treasury surplus.—New York World.

TWINKLINGS

— Fond Parent: Johnny, what do you want for a Christmas present this year? A little automobile? Johnny: Naw! I want a gostomobile.—Chicago Tribune.

— "Boy," said the cautious old lady, "how many people are in that elevator?" "Six," chuckled the boy, "and if you get in it will remind me of a card game." "What card game, boy?" "Seven up."—Chicago News.

— Rodrick—So you are going to touch your uncle for $20? Do you think you will be successful? Van Albert—Couldn't say. Uncle Henry is like they thought the State of Indiana was. Rodrick—How's that? Van Albert—Close and doubtful.—Chicago News.

— The Fierce Fellow—So you wouldn't say that Longfellow was a liar, eh? The Mild Man—No; but if he were conducting a newspaper I should not hesitate to assert that he had an exclusive news service.—Louisville Courier-Journal.

— Knicker—There's one strange fact I've noted. Booker—What's that? Knicker—A boy is christened with water and afterward takes booze, while a ship is christened with booze and afterward takes to water.—New York Press.

— Benevolent Party—Young man, I'm sorry to see you thus, idling away the golden hours of youth. Every time I look out of my parlor window I see you sitting on this fire hydrant." The Young Man—What's th' matter with you? What are you givin' me? I ain't idle when I'm doin' nothing. I'm a sewer inspector!—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

— Rankin—I wouldn't take it so hard, old man. Fyle (who voted for the losing candidate)—It isn't the result of the election that worries me. I'm wondering how I am going to square myself with my little girl. She thinks I am the the greatest man on earth, and I told her we were going to win.—Chicago Tribune.

— "Ah heahd a sermon about Gabriel coming wid his horn," remarked Deacon Dewberry. "He'll sahtinly arouse de people dat morn." "Dunno about dat," replied parson Sweetbean, shaking his head. "Gabriel will hab to toot an automobile horn to make some ob dese heah sinners jump."—Chicago News.

Not a Sick Day Since.

"I was taken severely sick with kidney trouble. I tried all sorts of medicines, none of which relieved me. One day I saw an advertisement of your Electric Bitters and determined to try that. After taking a few doses I felt relieved, and soon thereafter was entirely cured, and have not seen a sick day since. Neighbors of mine have been cured of rheumatism, neuralgia, liver and kidney troubles and general debility." This is what B. F. Bass, of Fremont, N. C., writes. Only 50 cents, at R. R. BELLAMY'S drug store.

IN REPLY TO INQUIRIES, we have pleasure in announcing that Ely's Liquid Cream Balm is like the solid preparation of that admirable remedy in that it cleanses and heals membranes affected by nasal catarrh. The Black Sheep of The Kenyon Family

(Original.)

There was a dance at Berwick Station. Miners, railroad employees, cow punchers, anybody, everybody—that is, those who were young—were collected in the dining room of the hotel, the space they occupied having been cleared for them by piling the tables and chairs against the walls. On a porch outside in the moonlight stood a man and a girl. For the girl the mixed assembly had no interest except as a spectacle. The man would have appeared equally refined had it not been for the "plains" apparel he wore and a dissipated look in his face. He was the son of an eastern capitalist and had gone to the bad, which meant in his case that he was a fighting, gambling, drinking spendthrift. Mild mannered when sober and unruffled, he was a very devil when drunk or spurred to fight.

"I have heard that you go back east tomorrow, Daisy," he said.

"I do, Paul."

"And this is the last I shall see of you as a girl. You marry the clergyman this fall?"

"I do."

The man gave a slight shiver.

"You can't feel it more than I do, Paul. You have brought this upon yourself."

"Yes, and on you."

The music within ceased suddenly, revealing the sound of a galloping horse in the distance. It came rapidly nearer, and a man, dashing up before the door, called out:

"The red devils are coming! Broken loose from the reservation! Light out!"

Ten minutes later Daisy and Paul Kenyon were riding for dear life. Each mounted on a good horse, the girl's skirts fluttering in the wind, the man spurring his own mount and belaboring hers to keep the pace. He knew they could distance an enemy following, but the road they were on joined another a few miles ahead, and there was no telling if they would be cut off at the junction. As they neared it they heard the guttural voice of Indians to their right. Urging on their horses, they cleared the junction, but the redskins had heard them and gave chase.

The white couple's horses had been using their strength and had it not been that they were of the best stock could not have raced even with the ordinary Indian pony. The savage yells behind added a new vigor, and for a time they gained on their pursuers. One of the braves mounted on a fleeter pony than the rest distanced his fellows, and they could hear him coming up on them.

"Ride on, Daisy," said the man. "I'll turn and settle this fellow, then I'll rejoin you."

"Must you?" said the girl.

"Yes. Go on, sweetheart; don't fear. I'll be with you in a moment."

He turned, and the girl rode on a short distance, then drew rein and listened. Two shots, one following close on the other; then no sound except the oncoming ponies, a matter of half a mile away, and a single horse near by. Was it life or death? The quick thud of the horses' hoofs told her that it was either the one or the other. Then the moonlight revealed Paul Kenyon, and she swooned in his arms.

When she came to herself she was riding, her back supported by Kenyon's chest. A consciousness that there was yet hope revived her. Seizing the reins, she bent forward, and the speed was increased. For miles they rode, permitting their horses to pick their way, now leaving the blood curdling yells farther away, now hearing them near behind. Then suddenly the girl's horse, which was of a more delicate mold than the man's, suddenly collapsed and fell dead. Daisy landed on a soft road and was unhurt. Kenyon sprang to the ground.

"Here, quick! Take my mount!"

"And you?"

"I shall beat them off and join you."

He spoke as confidently as if he had but an easy job before him. But he did not deceive the girl. She knew that but one of them could live, and he would be the one to die.

"Come, your foot! No time to change saddles! Give him his head and hold on to the pommel."

He had her on the horse's back before she could utter a protest.

"One kiss, Daisy."

She bent down and threw her arms around his neck passionately. In a twinkling he released himself and, giving the horse a slap on the haunch, saw the girl he was to die for vanish in the moonlight.

It was but a few minutes before she heard a shot and was sure he had ambushed an Indian; then another, then two in quick succession, then one. There were five of them, which, with the one he had used on the way, made six, all he had. Then there was no more firing.

But by this time the clattering of the ponies' hoofs, the yells, were more remote. Paul Kenyon had stayed the pursuit. Then she recognized her surroundings—a clump of trees, under which was a water trough fed by a spring—and she knew she was within a mile of her father's ranch.

When she reached her home in the east she heard that there was relief among the Kenyons that the family black sheep had given over disgracing them. They would have brought his body eastward and given it sepulture in the family mausoleum, but the Indians had left nothing of it that they could thus honor.

Daisy married the clergyman, but there was something in the humdrum life of a parson's wife that was unsuited to her. Her duty was to the man of God; her heart was buried with the black sheep of the Kenyon family.

COTTON MARKETS.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

NEW YORK, Nov. 21.—The cotton market opened easy at a decline of two to six points in response to liquidation, following a couple of local estimates of the crop. One of these put the probable yield at 11,684,000 bales. The other estimated it at 11,300,000 bales. Cables were fairly steady and early advices from the South indicated a good demand for spot cotton, with holders willing to sell at present prices but unwilling to make any further concession. Local shorts showed a disposition to cover at the initial break and prices were soon rallied to about closing figures of the previous night, after which they ruled about steady and were finally steady at a net advance of three to five points. Sales were estimated at 200,000 bales. It had been anticipated by some that the first installment of the ginners, report giving the amount of cotton ginned to November 14, would be issued to-day. There was no sign of it, however, and no official announcement as to when it may be expected.

CHICAGO, Nov. 21.—Under heavy profit-taking December wheat broke an even three cents from the high point of the day's quotations. A large part of the selling was said to have been done by Eastern capitalists who were anxious to get out of the grain market. The market regained part of the loss by the covering of shorts, but at the close the December delivery showed a net loss of 1½c as compared with Saturday's final figures. May is down ¾c. Corn is up ¾c. Oats show a gain of a shade. Provisions are off 2½@7½c.

REACHING THE SPOT.

It Can Be Done, So Scores of Wilmington Citizens Say.

To cure an aching back,
The pains of rheumatism,
The tired-out feelings,
You must reach the spot—get at the cause.
In most cases 'tis the kidneys.
Doan's Kidney Pills are for the kidneys.

J. E. Bloodworth, residing at 30 South Front street and employed at 123 Princess street, says: "I used Doan's Kidney Pills and they have proven to be a very valuable remedy and I believe I am safe in recommending them. My back and kidneys have given me great trouble. I thought I had rheumatism. I had shooting pains through my back and side which often made me yell right out. If I stood, sat or lay down or kept in any one position for any length of time it was almost impossible for me to move on account of the great pain. I heard some one speak in praise of Doan's Kidney Pills and I sent down to Bellamy's drug store and got a box. They completely removed the pains. They are without doubt a valuable remedy for backache."

SPIRITS TURPENTINE.

— On Friday at Hope Mills, the 3-year-old daughter of Mr. Zeb Hall, while playing about the premises, fell into a large tub of water and was drowned.

— Charlotte News: What's the matter with Charlotte's smart set? They are not up-to-date. They are giving Kimona parties in Statesville. We can't afford to get benind in these matters. Let's have a Kimona party.

— Greensboro Telegram: Congressman-elect E. Spencer Blackburn, from the Eighth district, is registered at the Benbow from Wilkesboro. He and Mrs. Blackburn are on their way to Washington. Mr. Blackburn's majority was 219.

— Salisbury Sun: The worst piece of news North Carolina farmers have had this week is that the boll weevil is coming this way and there seems to be no way to head it off. It presence mean the loss of thousands of bales of cotton each year to this State.

—Winston-Salem Sentinel: The Raliegh News and Observer figures it out that Mr. Glenn's majority for governor is a few votes less than 50,000—or in exact numbers, 49,684. That is ample. Had there been any real contest for the office it would have been considerably more.

— At Henderson on Friday Mr. Berry Bane, while driving near the railroad crossing at the hardwood factory, was thrown from his wagon and instantly killed. It seems that his mule got scared and started off at a run without warning, and Mr. Bane was thrown against a telephone pole with such force that his neck was broken. The deceased was about 55 years of age.

— Salisbury Sun, Nov. 19: The jewerly store of Mr. S. L. Swicegood on South Main street was robbed of a diamond brooch and five solid gold watches early this morning. The robbery was a daring one, as the storeroom is less than a half block from the public square and almost in full glare of an electric light. In accomplishing the robbery a small brick was used on the large plate glass in the front of the storeroom and it was broken sufficiently to admit the entrance of a hand. Mr. Swicegood estimates his loss at from $300 to $400.

— Salisbury Sun: Another reduction of the force at the Spencer shops was made last week. Fifteen machinists, three blacksmiths and two boilermakers were laid off indefinitely. The reduction is made ostensibly on account of the exhaustion of the appropriation for these shops, but there are many theories advanced as to the cause for this reduction among the employes themselves. It is believed that on the first of January the full force will be restored.

— Raleigh Times: So State Chairman Rollins wants the United States district attorneyship for the western district, according to a telegram printed on the first page of this paper, and the chances are that he will get it. We do not know much about Mr. Rollins' legal and other general intellectual ability, but it is safe to assume that he can fill the place as capably as Holton, whose general appearance and record makes it certain that it is no wonder how he carries around all he knows.

— Raleigh News and Observer: A few weeks ago, near Clarkton, Bladen county, a negro committed the horrible crime for which lynching has often been invoked. Popular feeling naturally and properly ran high and the indignation toward the brute in human form was deep and relentless.. In many communities lynching would have been resorted to as the best means of avenging the crime. Wiser counsel prevailed, the negro was arrested and taken out of the county by the authorities until the regular time of Bladen court. He was carried back, given a fair trial, convicted, sentenced to be hung, and on Wednesday he was executed by the legal authorities. Bladen has set a good example—one that should be followed by the people in every county in the South. It would be a reflection upon the civilization and the laws of the State for the brute to have been permitted to live after the commission of the blackest crime in the list of crimes, but it is a far-reaching injury to the reputation of the South every time a brute is lynched.

— Raleigh News and Observer: While preparing a cabbage for dinner yesterday, Mrs. C. A. Bridgers, of this city, discovered a "cabbage-colored," snakish looking creature, which had been severed in cutting the vegetable. Mrs. Bridgers naturally ceased the preparation of the vegetable and laid it aside until Mr. Bridgers arrived. After an investigation he promptly concluded that the strange creature was at least a species of the poisonous snake-worm which, as will be recalled, created such horrible conditions in the great cabbage growing districts of the West some months ago, when innumerable families were unconsciously poisoned by eating cabbage containing the invisible, but fatal existence of this strange species of the snake family. Nothing, however, has of late been heard of the snake worm and its very existence was presumed to have long ago been blotted out. Whether or not the incident of yesterday may be the beginning of the revival of this pest, it might be well for housewives to take caution and consider for what it is worth the strange discovery of yesterday.

Disastrous Wrecks.

Carelessness is responsible for many a railway wreck, and the same causes are making human wrecks of sufferers from throat and lung troubles. But since the advent of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds, even the worst cases can be cured, and hopeless resignation is no longer necessary. Mrs. Lois Cragg, of Dorchester, Mass., is one of many whose life was saved by Dr. King's New Discovery. This great remedy is guaranteed for all Throat and Lung diseases by R. R. BELLAMY, druggist. Price 50 cents and $1.00. Trial bottles free.

CASTORIA.

Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher. The Kind You Have Always Bought

— Charlotte Observer: Much interest is felt in the proposition to build an interurban electric railway line connecting Charlotte, Concord and Gastonia, and the arrival in the city of Mr. M. M. Martin, representing the outside capitalists, draws closer attention to the project. The following statement was given out yesterday: "Mr. M. M. Martin, of Richmond, Va., arrived in the city this morning. He was in consultation with Messrs. Clarkson & Duls, who will be general attorneys for the comdany, and Mr. E. R. Preston, who will represent the company in all matters connected with the city. Mr. Martin seems much plessed with the outlook for building the suburban road. Mr. W. U. Whitner, the chief engineer, reports that he has about made one line of survey to Gastonia and one or more additional surveys will be made; that surveys will also be made to Concord and other points. The charter rights of the City and Suburban Electric Company have been assigned to Mr. Martin as attorney for his clients. The company is formed strictly for interurban traffic and only two or three streets will be run over in the city. Some of the leading and best known business men of the city will be in the enterprise." No organization of a company has yet been made, although the men interested are largely concerned in the Virginia Passenger and River Company a well known traction company. It is said that local capital will be put into the new concern if the plans work satisfactorily.

— We are much of the same opinion with the Charlotte Observer, that the best thing the Legislature could do would be to pass some appropriation bills and adjourn. It might spend some time profitably in abolishing a lot of stuff already on the law books. There are at least three counties in the State that ought to constitute that many judicial districts. Wake, Mecklenburg and Guilford ought each to have a judge for all his time. It is said there are now more than 500 cases on the docket in Guilford county. The jail is constantly overrun with prisoners. The same is true of Wake, and while we know nothing definite of Mecklenburg, it is reasonable to suppose that a county with as much wealth and population as this one, has much business carried over from one court to another.

GOT HIS HAIR BACK.

Was Perfectly Bald When He Started to Use Newbro's Herpicide.

Frederick Manuell, Maryland block, Butte, Montana, bought a bottle of Newbro's Herpicide, April 6, '99, and began to use it for entire baldness. The hair follicles in his scalp were not dead and in 20 days he had hair all over his head. On July 2 he writes, "and today my hair is as thick and luxuriant as any one could wish." Newbro's Herpicide works on an old principle and with a new discovery—destroy the cause and you remove the effect. Herpicide destroys the germ that causes dandruff, falling hair, and finally baldness, so that with the cause gone the effect cannot remain. Stops falling hair at once and a new growth starts. Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c. in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

WINTER'S APPROACH

A day of sunshine now and then, but these frosty mornings admonish us that sable Winter is almost here. That suggests the comforts and satisfaction of one of our modern heaters. We have them this year of every shape and kind—just the one to suit. Or, perhaps, it's a cooking stove or range. We have those too, And the point we are making for them all is that they furnish an even maximum of heat with the greatest economy of fuel.

We are yours just now for stoves and ranges, but all the time for hardware and agricultural implements. Let us serve you.

WILMINGTON, N. C.

TUESDAY MORNING, NOV. 22.

A STEAMSHIP ASHORE.

The Sicilian Prince Aground Off Long Beach, L. I.—All the Passengers Landed at New York.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

NEW YORK, Nov. 21.—With her nose poked fast in the sand off Long Beach, L. I., the steamship Sicilian Prince to-night is being lightered, so that the flood tide to-morrow morning she may moved into deep water and brought to her dock in this city.

Efforts to get the big ship free from the treacherous Long Island sands were futile to-day and after several attempts word was sent to the city and arrangements made to begin immediately the work of taking out her cargo. The Prince line officials realizing that the task of getting their vessel off to-day was remote, sent down barges and tugs and all the passengers were brought up to the city to day, and the immigrants to the number of 541 sent to Ellis island. To night the reports from Long Beach say that there is no sea on and that the vessel is lying easy. Captain Hanks and his crew of seventy men are still on the ship. About one hour before the vessel struck yesterday a child was born to one of the Italian passengers.

ROOSEVELT'S CABINET.

Heads of Six of the Executive Departments Determined by the President.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 21.—Mr. Moody has decided, on the request of Mr. Roosevelt, to continue in the office of attorney general.

The decision of Attorney General Moody renders it reasonably certain that the heads of six of the great executive departments of the government have been determined by the President for the next administration. Mr. Hay will continue at the State Department; Mr. Taft at the head of the War Department; Mr. Metcalf at the head of the Department of Commerce and Labor; Mr. Wilson at the head of the Agricultural Department, and National Chairman George B. Cortelyou will be postmaster general after the 4th of next March. It is expected also that Mr. Shaw will continue as secretary of the treasury and Mr. Morton as secretary of the navy; but as to those two no definite information is obtainable. A change is expected in the Department of the Interior, but Secretary Hitchcock has not let it be known publicly whether he desires to retire or not.

SENATOR SMOOT'S CASE.

Rehearing to Begin Next Month—Forty Witnesses to be Summoned.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 21.—Senator Burrows, chairman of the Senate Committee on Privileges and Elections, has received a letter from R. W. Tayler, the attorney who is conducting the case against Senator Smoot of Utah, enclosing a list of witnesses whom he wishes summoned when the re-hearing begins next month. There are about forty names and it is expected that at least twenty-five witnesses will be examined. It is possible that a sub-committee may go to Utah about the first of January to take testimony. Senator Burrows says he intends to have a report made to the Senate in time for action before the adjournment of Congress.

Officers Elected at the Annual Meeting of the Stockholders.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

RICHMOND, VA., NOV. 21.—After fifty-six years service as secretary-treasurer of the Richmond, Fredericksburg and Potomac railroad, James B. Winston to-day resigned the double office referred to and F. J. Duke was appointed to succeed him. The stockholders of the road, at their annual meeting, elected the following officers: President, E. T. D. Myers; directors, George W. Stevens, Samuel Spencer, N. S. Meldrum and V. J. Leake. J. Taylor Ellyson was announced as director on the part of the State.

IN THE GREAT STORM.

Spanish Barque Believed to Have Foundered With All on Board.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 21.—The British steamer Aros Castle, Captain Day, 57 days out from Java, with a cargo of sugar, arrived at this port to-day and reported the probable foundering on November 15th of the Spanish bark Tafalla, with her crew of fifteen men, during the recent southern storm. The steamer stood by the sinking bark for two days, and on the second night the Spanish vessel disappeared. The condition of the Tafalla when the crew of the Aros Castle last saw the vessel was such as to lead them to believe that the bark went down during the night.

INDICTED FOR MURDER.

Young Banker Who Stabbed a Physician During a Quarrel at Roanoke, Va.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

ROANOKE, VA., Nov. 21.—A special grand jury to-day indicted Charles R. Fishburn, a young banker and broker, for the murder of Dr. Frederic Lefew, a prominent young physician, who died a week ago from a knife wound in the breast inflicted by Fishburn during a difficulty between the two men two weeks earlier. The indictment is in four counts, charging murder first by a knife, second a dirk, third a dagger, and fourth a weapon unknown to the jury. Fishburn is in jail and next Thursday has been fixed as the date for his preliminary hearing.

NAN PATTERSON'S TRIAL FOR MURDER.

Assistant District Attorney Rand Outlined State's Case and Examined Witnesses.

EVIDENCE CIRCUMSTANTIAL.

Detailed Movements of Young and Miss Patterson—Relations That Existed Between Them—Revolver Purchased by Brother-in-law.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

NEW YORK, Nov. 21.—The trial of Nan Patterson for the murder of Bookmaker Cæsar Young was fairly begun before Justice Davis in the Supreme Court to-day, and when adjournment was taken Assistant District Attorney Rand had concluded his outline of the State's case and had examined several of the witnesses for the prosecution.

The stories that there would be further delays in the trial were early disposed of by the announcement from the court that Foreman Hendricks, of the jury, who had asked to be relieved, would not be excused.

Then came Mr. Rand's opening, in which he said the State's witnesses would prove that Nan Patterson killed Young, and that the killing was planned several hours before the morning on which Young met his death.

There was not an unusually large crowd in the court room this morning, but when the doors were opened for the afternoon session there was a rush to gain admittance which swept the squad of court officers off their feet.

The main floor of the Criminal Courts building was a solid mass of people and those who had business in the court had to fight to even reach the vestibule. The crush became serious in a short time and police were called in from the street to aid in maintaining order.

Mr. Rand said in his opening that the crime would be proven by strong circumstantial evidence. He sketched the relations of Young and Nan Patterson, saying that in March, 1904, at his wife's pleading, Young decided to shake Nan Patterson. She was given $800 to leave him. "I am compelled to show the relation that existed between Young and this woman. This evidence will not be milk for babies, therefore let us be strong enough to face the truth, though we would far rather turn aside."

He detailed the movements of Miss Patterson and Young, declaring that notwithstanding the money which was given her as inducement to leave, Nan said she had a better claim on Young than any other woman and refused to give him up.

Mr. Rand declared that on June 3rd, J. Morgan Smith, the prisoner's brother-in-law, accompanied by a woman, purchased a revolver at Hiram Stern's pawnshop.

"The same night," he said, "Nan and Young met and went to Fiannery's saloon, where they remained until 3 o'clock the next morning. During the night there were a series of scenes between Young and his mistress. When he told her that he was going away, she replied that he could not, that he could not hide himself on any ocean liner.

"Next morning Young met Nan and they drove down town together in the hansom cab in which the tragedy occurred. After the shooting the revolver bought on the previous evening at the pawn shop was found in the dead man's right hand coat pocket.

"I am not going to produce J. Morgan Smith because he has left the State. After the purchase of the revolver he was seen quarrelling with Nan Patterson near the Sixth avenue pawnshop. He was heard to say to her 'you must do it,' and she replied 'I will not.' Then Smith slapped his sister-in-law's face and pushed her into the cab and sent her home."

In the vicinity of the cab where Young was shot was William J. Jurior, a policeman. His attention had been called to a commotion in the cab by a citizen, and as the vehicle drew up he ordered the driver to stop. As he climbed upon the step he saw a man whose body had been concealed by the closed door. The man was unconscious. Miss Patterson told him that her companion had shot himself and he ordered the cabman to drive to a hospital. In the meantime he had found a revolver in the right pocket of the coat.

On cross-examination he said that when he reached the cab Young's head was lying in Miss Patterson's lap. His left arm around her shoulder. Miss Patterson was hysterical and was crying, "Oh, Caesar what have you done."

"Did she say anything else?" asked Mr. Levy.

"Yes; she told me he had said to her, 'You may not see me again.'"

Edward Joseph Quinn, the detective who accompanied Miss Patterson from the hospital to the Tombs, just after she had been arrested, told of a conversation between himself and the prisoner.

"After she had asked me if I was a policeman," said the witness, "she said, 'Cæsar Young was a married man and he and I were lovers. He was going away and we might never see each other again.' She then asked me if Cæsar Young was dead, and when I replied that he was, she said, 'I don't want to live now. Why should he kill himself? He had everything to live for.'"

"Did she say anything else while you were in the cab with her?"

"Yes; she asked me if I had struck Young on the head. I asked her 'Why should I do that' and she replied, 'To kill.'"

Quinn said that Miss Patterson fainted several times in the station house. She was very nervous and asked him to kill her, saying that she had nothing to live for now that Caesar was dead."

"When J. Morgan Smith came to the station house," said the witness, "and the defendant told him that Caesar was dead, he seemed to be stupefied at the news."

Quinn said that Miss Patterson told him she was looking out at the cab when Young shot himself.

At this point the court adjourned until tomorrow.

TRAGEDY IN A HACK.

Woman Shot and Killed—Her Slayer Then Attempted Suicide.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

ATLANTA, GA., Nov. 20.—News was received in this city to night of a double tragedy at Kennesaw, twenty-eight miles from Atlanta on the Western and Atlantic railroad, in which J. R. Butler, of Augusta, an engineer on the Central of Georgia railroad, had shot and killed Mrs. Lola Green, of Atlanta, and mortally wounded himself with the same pistol. The tragedy occurred in a hack in which the couple were riding to the depot to catch the train to Atlanta. The exact nature of the trouble which led up to the killing and suicide is unknown. Mrs. Green came to Atlanta from Greenville, S. C.

GOLD GOING ABROAD.

Total Since the Movement Began on October 27th is Placed at Over $23,000,000—Large Shipments To-day.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

NEW YORK, Nov. 21.—Lazard Freres have increased their gold engagements for export to $1,800,000. Of this amount $1,000,000 will be shipped on steamer leaving to-morrow and the balance on Thursday. This exhausts the gold bar supply at the assay office.

Goldman, Sachs & Company to-day engaged $500,000 gold coin for shipment to Paris to-morrow, making $3,300,000 coin and bars to be shipped by them. This was the first engagement of gold coin announced since the payments last Spring for the Panama canal. The bankers said that with the advance this afternoon in the rate for sterling exchange to 4.8715 the market had reached a basis where it was easily profitable to export coin. It was believed in financial circles that considerably more gold coin would be exported now that the movement had begun.

The total gold shipped since the present movement began on October 27th is placed at $23,750,000, of which $9,000,000 went to Cuba.

DEFALCATION CASE.

Two Officials at Macon, Ga., Charged With Stealing $42,000.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

MACON, GA., November 20.—The Macon and Birmingham Railroad's defalcation case, involving an alleged steal of $42 000, and which created a general sensation, will be tried in Bibb Superior Court to-morrow.

Julian R. Lane was general magager of the road at Macon, with E. R. Henderson as auditor and cashier. An investigation showed a misappropriation of $42,000. The books had been falsified and Henderson was arrested; he at once swearing out an accusation against Lane, charging him with the responsibility, and saying that he had acted under Lane's orders. Both are prominent citizens and public opinion in the case is divided.

MACON, GA., Nov. 21.—The case of the Macon and Birmingham railroad against E. R. Henderson, auditor, for recovery of money alleged to have been lacking in his accounts, amounting to about $43,000 with interest, was quickly decided in the Superior Court to-day. Only one witness, the expert accountant, was examined. The attorney for the respondent submitted no dissent and the judge directed the jury to return a verdict for the full amount claimed. This is the end of a civil suit which will be immediately followed by the prosecution of indictments against Henderson for embezzlement. The prosecuting witness in the case was Julian R. Lane, formerly the general manager of the railroad whom himself is under indictment, the charge being preferred by Henderson.

WHITE HOUSE CONFERENCE.

The Fixing of Railroad Freight Rates the Subject of Importance.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 21.—Interstate transportation matters, with special reference to the fixing of railroad freight rates, formed the subject of importance at the White House today. By previous appointment Governor Samuel R. VanSant, of Minnesota; Governor A. B. Cummins, of Iowa; E. P. Bacon, of Milwaukee, chairman of the insterstate commerce law convention; FRANK BARRY, of Milwaukee, secretary of the convention, and R. W. Higbie, an official of the National Lumber Dealers' Association, called on the President to urge him to use his influence to secure the enactment of a law which would confer upon the insterstate commerce commission power to fix railroad freight rates in the commerce between the States. The President did not indicate, however, what his personal views were, contenting himself with giving a careful hearing to the statements made.

ROOSEVELT'S CLUB

Passed Resolution Denouncing Disfranchisement of Negroes in the South

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

NEW YORK, Nov. 21.—The Republican Club at its regular meeting to night unanimously passed a resolution denouncing the disfranchisement of the negroes in the South. At the next meeting a committee will be appointed to discuss the matter with President Roosevelt who is a member of the club.

The resolutions adopted congratulated the country on the outcome of the election and tendered felicitations to "our fellow member, President Roosevelt, on the magnificent tribute the people have paid to his character and achievements."

It was also resolved "that Congress should enact suitable legislation to reduce the excessive representation from the affected States in Congress and the electoral college as directed by the constitution of the United States."

RACE WAR IN IOWA.

Negro Miner Kills a White Miner and Trouble Ensues.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

DES MOINES, IA., Nov. 20.—Race war is regarded as imminent at Fraser, Iowa, where Thomas Albright, a white miner, was shot and mortally wounded last night by James Price, a negro. The white miners held a meeting this afternoon and voted to refuse to work longer with the negroes. They accuse the negroes of having aided Price to make his escape, and the feeling is intence. There are from thirty-five to fifty negroes in the mining camp and about 1,300 whites. Both sides are heavily armed.

FIRE IN ASHEVILLE.

Three Buildings Destroyed—Loss Estimated at $75,000 to $100,000.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

ASHEVILLE, N. C., Nov. 20.—Fire, which broke out at about 10:30 o'clock to-night, has wrought damage of $75,000 to $100,000. The principal losers are the Thebold Candy Company, whose stock is destroyed; the Asheville Music Company, and Bender's hair dressing establishment. The Asheville Citizen, a morning newspaper, caught fire twice, but was saved. All the burned buildings are on Patton avenue. The losses are partially insured.

The cruisers Cleveland and Des Moines left Leghorn and Villafranche, respectively, yesterday for Gibraltar on their way to the West Indies to take part in the winter naval maneuvres. The flagship Olympia at Genoa will follow the same course in a few days. The departure of these three vessels will mark the abandonment of the European naval station for a long time to come.

GENERAL ATTACK BY JAPS DELAYED.

Situation Gives Rise to Conflicting Rumors and Speculation Regarding Operations.

WEATHER EXTREMELY COLD.

Expected That the Armies Will Winter in Their Present Positions—Skirmishing Continues—The Situation at Port Arthur.

By Cable to the Morning Star.

MUKDEN, Nov. 21.—The anticipated general attack by the Japanese has not developed as yet. The uncertainty of the present situation gives rise to conflicting rumors and speculation regarding future operations. Some expect the Japanese to attempt a wide flanking movement on Tie Pass and others claim the armies will practically Winter in their present positions. Complete inactivity prevails. The nights are growing colder and fuel is scarcer. Crowds of Chinese are wandering over the fields and roads picking up everything combustible, even the roots of Chinese corn.

MUKDEN, via Tien Tsin, Nov. 21.—Since the Japanese failed in the attack which they made on Poutiloff, November 18th, the old order of affairs has been resumed. There are frequent skirmishes, particularly in the vicinity of the Russian center, where both sides have daily clashes. There was an exchange of artillery fire during the greater part of November 20th. It appears that the affair of November 18th was a reconnoissance in force, and if it had been successful it was to be followed by a general attack.

The Japanese got within thirty paces of the Russian outer positions before being driven back. They left over a hundred dead on the field.

The Russian soldiers are quite comfortable in their dug-outs. The weather continues extremely cold, the thermometer recording thirty-five degrees of frost. The frost is accompanied by high winds which carry clouds of dust.

Blockade Runner Captured.

TOKIO, Nov. 21.—The Navy Department reports the capture of the German steamer Batelan while attempting to run the Port Arthur blockade. The department says that at 3 A. M., November 19th, a Japanese squadron cruising off Yentao sighted a vessel steaming for Port Arthur. The gunboat Tatsuta pursued and overtook the steamer at 5 in the morning. On board of the vessel was found a great quantity of Winter clothing, blankets, medicine and canned meats. Her captain said he was bound for New Chwang. The route and cargo of the Batelan were considered to be suspicious and she was taken possession of and brought to Sasebo.

A Daring Deed.

ST. PETERSBURG, Nov. 21.—General Kuropatkin, telegraphing under yesterday's date, reports a daring deed accomplished by four volunteers of a Russian patrol on November 16th. While reconnoitering the patrol discovered a Chinese building occupied by twenty-five Japanese. Two riflemen volunteered to blow up the place, and armed with grenades loaded with pyroxylin the riflemen succeeded in evading the sentries, placed the grenades and retired undetected. A few minutes later the grenades exploded and completely wrecked the building. When Japanese reinforcements arrived they found all the occupants dead or wounded among the ruins.

Fighting at Port Arthur.

TOKIO, Nov. 21.—Reliable sources report that the Japanese mined and occupied a counter-scarp on Rihlung mountain Nov. 19.

A dispatch from Tokio early to-day announced that the Japanese after successful mining had occupied a counter-scarp on Sunghu mountain on Friday, November 18. Rihlung mountain is east of Sungshu mountain.

CHE FOO, Nov. 21.—A Japanese official, among the latest arrivals from Dalny, states positively that the general attack upon Port Arthur has not been resumed. Rumors to that effect in Dalny have arisen because the troops, including the Seventh division recently landed, are being sent to the front.

It is believed that the explosion which took place on November 16th occurred in some counter-tunnelling work. The second explosion, which was heard on November 19th, was much heavier and it is reported upon the best authority was due to the blowing up of a Russian magazine.

It is expected that the next attack upon Port Arthur will be a tremendous affair. More reinforcements are coming to the support of General Nogi than those dispatched to Field Marshal Oyama.

The Japanese are now constructing coast defence forts at Pigeon Bay, which is accepted as an indication that they expect to be defending Port Arthur themselves some day.

Great Events Imminent.

BERLIN, Nov. 21.—A dispatch to the Lokal Anzeiger from Mukden, under to-day's date says:

"The reconnoissance fights have assumed a more violent character during the past few days. Particularly hot was the fighting on Poutiloff hill (Lone Tree hill) where the Japanese were repulsed with the loss of over one-hundred killed. All signs indicate that great events are imminent. The road to Somintin, owing to the excellent patrol service, is quite safe from Chinese bandits, thus guaranteeing unhindered communication with Tien Tsin and establishing a second line of intercourse with the outside world.

Japs Advancing.

MUKDEN, November 21.—The Russian detachments occupying DePass have retired before the Japanese column, 1,000 strong. The Japanese are reported to be advancing towards Sint Sintin.

SCHOONER N. H. BURROW

Arrived in Port After an Encounter With the Recent Storm.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

NORFOLK, VA., Nov. 21.—The schooner N. H. Burrow has arrived in port two weeks out from New York. She encountered the Gulf storm off Chincoteague but beat her way into the capes. Anchoring there to weather the gale, her cables snapped and she was blown two hundred miles to sea and got in under make-shift rigging after a hard battle, leaking.

The Burrow left New York for Virginia to take on a cargo. On the Saturday before the gale she was off Chincoteague in company with the schooner George F. Phillips, which vessel has not yet been heard from.

The American-German arbitration treaty will be signed to-day at the State Department, by Secretary Hay and Baron Sternberg.

MOB LAW AT LEXINGTON, KY.

Troops Called Out to Prevent Lynching of Three Negroes Under Arrest for Killing a White Man.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

LEXINGTON, KY., Nov. 21.—A mob is again forming for the purpose of lynching Jim Garfield, John Taylor and Ed Taylor, negroes under arrest for the murder of William Moore, a white man. An attempt to lynch the negroes on Sunday night, after the murder, was abandoned.

The mob became so threatening that County Judge Bullock advised that the militia be called out. Constables and deputy sheriffs to the number of fifty had already been put on guard at the jail, and all day policemen have been called from bed to reinforce the night force. The police regard the situation as grave.

At 11 o'clock to night Colonel Roger Williams, of the Second regiment, called Company C into service. Runners are going for the soldiers in all parts of the city. County Judge Bullock is at the jail with the chief of police and detectives and sheriffs, directing precautionary means. The police learned that the mob was forming in three sections. At 12 o'clock a platoon of police advanced on a crowd of 300 men at Gratz Park. The men offered no resistance but dispersed in all directions. Several who had guns exposed were locked up. The police dispersed groups of men wherever they collected in the down town quarter.

While a minstrel performance was in progress at the Opera House a halt was called by the management and it was announced that Colonel Williams asked all militia men in the audience to meet him in the lobby. This caused excitement and hundreds of people flocked to the jail. The police stretched ropes across the street bounding the jail and reinforced this with a living chain of blue coats. They received information that two brothers of the widow of Moore, who with ten children is left unprovided for, were at the head of a mounted mob riding from Bourbon county. The report that the widow had said she wanted the men lynched, incited many to join the mob. Information that it was planned to burn the square of houses in which the prisoners lived reached the police, but they could not spare men from the jail to guard the street. Colonel Williams could not get in communication with the governor but called out the local company on his own responsibility.

WARM WIRELETS.

It was announced at the White House yesterday that Attorney General Moody has decided to remain in President Roosevelt's new cabinet.

In a fifteen round match for $1,000 at White Chapel, London, Eng., last night, "Young" Peter Jackson beat Charley Allum, of London, in the sixth round.

General Louis Palma Di Cesmole, director and trustee of the Metropolitan Museum of Arts, died suddenly in New York city from an attack of acute indigestion. He was 72 years old.

Fire destroyed the Texas Midland railroad shops at Terrell, Texas, completely gutting machine shops, car shed and paint shops. The loss is estimated at $50,000; insurance not known.

Detectives left Bluefield, W. Va., yesterday for New York, having in charge Professor Popp, who will be turned over to the Austrian consul, charged with complicity in the robbery of the postoffice at Budapest.

Staunton Military Academy, at Staunton, Va., was almost entirely destroyed by fire early yesterday morning. Many of the boys lost all their belongings. Damage $15,000. Insurance $13,000.

Hugh S. Webster, 23 years old, a draftsman in the employ of the New York Shipbuilding Company at Camden, N. J., committed suicide in a hotel at Newport News, Va. Unrequited love was the cause.

Mrs. J. O. Rust, widow of the late John O. Rust, one of the prominent ministers of the South, who died at Seattle some months ago, has been offered and accepted the presidency of Boscobel Female College, Nashville, Tenn.

At Bakersfield, California, William Crutchfield, a middle-aged man, walked into the county jail and gave himself up, saying that he was implicated in a murder committed in Winston, N. C., sixteen years ago, and that he and three other boys were the slayers.

President Roosevelt announced the appointment of Francis E. Leupp, of Washington, D. C., to be Indian commissioner vice William A. Jones resigned. Commissioner Jones' resignation and Mr. Leupp's appointment will take effect January 1.

The funeral of Colonel W. C. P. Breckinridge, held yesterday in Lexington, Ky., was the largest since the funeral of Henry Clay and James B. Beck. Leading citizens from all over the Blue Grass region of Kentucky and lawyers and prominent men of other cities were present.

The Chicago Subway Company, with an authorized capital of $50,000,000, all common stock, has been incorporated. The company is given the power to build and operate railroads and it is understood the purpose of the company is to build a subway in Chicago.

Bedroom Screen as a Present.

A pretty and inexpensive screen for a bedroom is an excellent Christmas gift. It may be made with the aid of several yards of cream colored brussels net. The net is first gathered, top and bottom, on a stout linen thread and then stretched tightly on the screen by means of tiny brass headed tacks. It may be necessary to cover the screen first with cheap silk in white or some pale shade in order to prevent the original covering from showing through the net. The frame might also be enameled in cream color.

Costly Platinum.

Platinum is six times as expensive now as it was twenty years ago, and Geneva jewelers complain that they cannot get nearly enough of the metal for their work.

Animal Language.

Animals have a language made up of signs or inarticulate sounds expressing impressions, sensations, passions, but never ideas. So this language excludes conversation and is limited to interjections or signs or movements expressing joy, grief, fear, anger, all the passions of the senses, but never more.

Old Time Feminine Folly.

It is estimated that in the reign of Louis XV., when Mme. de Pompadour set the fashions, the French women used for their cheeks each year 2,000,000 pots of paint.

Much Buried Soldier.

The following is the epitaph over a Spanish soldier's grave: "This is the fourth burial place of Don Epiphanius Calcanares. He parted with his left arm in the Philippine Islands, with his right thigh in Tetuan and with his left in Burgos. Here reposeth what was left of him."

ALL OVER THE HOUSE.

The Pantry as an Adjunct to the Kitchen.

In planning a home too much care cannot be given to the pantry, says a writer in the Minneapolis Housekeeper, as here it is many unnecessary steps may be taken, many false movements made, if the place is not convenient in every detail.

In most homes it is here the baking is prepared, for unless it is possible to prepare many dishes on a broad shelf in the pantry it means that all the ingredients used must be carried from the pantry out into the kitchen to the table and back again into the pantry when the cooking is done.

In a most convenient pantry there is a broad shelf, sufficiently large to hold a wide bake board. This shelf is at right angles with the shelves on which the supplies are placed, and it is possible to stand in one place while preparing a baking and, at the most, take but a step or two to the farthest end of the shelves.

In front of this shelf is a large window which gives perfect light with which to work without straining the eyes.

All up and down the sides of this window small brass hooks are fastened into the woodwork, and on each side of these hooks is placed one utensil used in cookery. When one is at work it is possible to lift any one article without disturbing the rest, and, as each article is always kept on its own screw, it becomes almost a mechanical movement to reach for any article that is needed.

Soapsuds.

Soapsuds are valuable as manure and on no account should be wasted by any one who owns a garden. It is surprising what a stimulating effect they have on vines, raspberry canes, rose trees, etc.

Walker Foster Powell.

The earliest long distance walker whose performances were authenticated appears to have been Foster Powell, a limb of the law with a penchant for walking from London to York and back. His first journey was made in 1773, when he covered the distance of 394 miles in six days, with nearly six hours to spare.

Sir Robert Walpole.

Sir Robert Walpole held the unbeaten record of having been prime minister of England for, in all, twenty-one years.
